

Job Description: Speech Coach

About us:

Baby Concierge: instant support from top childcare experts at your fingertips.

MaryPoppins is a technology startup that is looking to make parenting easier, by connecting parents and childcare experts.

As part of our launch, we are looking for motivated, experienced childcare practitioners to come onboard and support our parent community. Please note this is a vendor-partnership engagement opportunity (not a salaried position). See Perks section below.

We are in Stealth Mode currently

What you will do:

- Provide virtual advice (chat, video or email based) to parents about their newborns, babies, and toddlers.
- Have committed weekly time frames of engagement online on our platform as our vendor partner

What we're looking for:

- Prepare engaging exercises and activities to use during speech sessions with toddlers and children and explain the same to parents, caregivers and teachers.
- Provide counseling and consultations for toddlers and children
- Create goals and objectives for toddlers and children to work toward and identify areas of progress and challenges
- Understand the problem areas and help with specific follow up instructions and goals for improvement
- Master's degree in speech-language pathology is a bonus
- A friendly and professional demeanor is required when explaining procedures and processes to patients

It would be a PLUS if you have experience as a:

- Doula or Counselor:
 - perform initial evaluations of parents' needs and develop customized treatment plans
 - educate parents on stress coping mechanisms
 - Guide the mother once she has been discharged with regards to postnatal care
 - Keeping up to date on childbirth support, birthing techniques, and pre and post-natal care
- And/Or, a Sleep Coach:
 - Experienced and certified sleep coach or counselor
 - Have strong knowledge of all sleep-related issues, concerns, schedules, etc through different stages of a child's age/life.
- And/Or, a Baby Care expert: you are an experienced sleep coach or consultant who has:
 - Experience with new mom care and infant baby care. A 'plus' for experience with Toddler care.

- Provide virtual advice to parents based on the symptoms and/or issues. You will not be conducting in-person tests and/or administering vaccines and/or writing prescriptions, as that would be advisable to be done by the doctor's office or hospital network that the parents/babies/children belong to.

Ideal candidate will:

- Have computer access
- Be tele-support savvy
- Have excellent interpersonal and communication skills
- Have excellent time management skills
- Have strong analytical and problem-solving ability
- Have familiarity with web-based patient information systems
- Empathetic and patient, especially in our new virtual world with virtual interactions

Details:

- Flexible on preference for weekdays or weekends.
- Full time or part time - as a contractor or freelancer

Perks:

- Payment for your services
- Free access to HIPAA compliant telecare app and organized web technology for your business and your clients: virtual video conferencing, chat, audio, calendaring, document storage, etc
- Free access to pediatrician-certified content and resources for your clients
- Free Marketing, PR and branding for your business
- Access to new clients and new business revenue streams
- Stock/share grants as a founding team member equity package in our start-up
